

KEY

- Wherryman's Way
- Circular Walk
- Public Path
- Road/Lane
- Parking
- Wherryman's Way Information

0 1km
1/2 mile

This map is based upon Ordnance Survey material with the permission of Ordnance Survey on behalf of the Controller of Her Majesty's Stationery Office © Crown copyright. Unauthorised reproduction infringes Crown copyright and may lead to prosecution or civil proceedings. Norfolk County Council. Licence No: 100019340. 2008.

Points of interest

- Holy Trinity Church – local history exhibition
- 'Story' Sculpture at Pye's Mill by Mark Goldsworthy
- Pye's Mill picnic and barbecue site
- Historic and picturesque town of Loddon

Walk Details

Walk Time	1 hour / 30 mins
Distance	1 ¼ miles (longer walk) 1 mile (shorter walk)
Surface	50% Soft - can be muddy in places, 1 stile on short walk
Gradient	Flat
Facilities	Public toilets at Church Plain car park, café, restaurant, shops, pubs and takeaways in Loddon

Starting point

OS Grid reference TM 362987 – Church Plain car park.

Car parking

Parking can be found on Church Plain car park in the centre of Loddon, Loddon Staithe (TM 362990) or at Pye's Mill (TM 366990).

Directions

- From the 'Wherryman's Way' sign on Church Plain car park, walk through the churchyard to the rear of Holy Trinity Church where you will find the footpath.
- Follow the tarmac footpath across the valley and upon reaching the road, turn left.
- At the T-junction, turn left and follow the lane to Pye's Mill.
- Reaching Pye's Mill, you turn left and walk through the trees to a footbridge.
- Pye's Mill is a popular area for BBQs and picnics with walkers and boaters alike.
- At the footbridge you have a choice of turning left and heading straight back to the church, or turning right and walking alongside the River Chet. Halfway along the riverbank is a seat where you can sit and enjoy the location. A barn owl can often be seen hunting on this marsh.
- The path turns left across the marsh and it is here that wet weather can make it difficult underfoot.
- In the corner of the marsh is a footbridge that leads to a path that takes you back to Loddon High Street.